Remote Teamwork makes the Dream work!

The Game has changed, is your organization adapting?

Aligning and bonding remote teams has always had its challenges. But more than ever we must make the most of this situation if we wish to achieve greater success after this quite dramatic shift in workplace dynamics. And for sure, remote working is here to stay in some form.

DTA's online team building events are specifically designed to make this process easier and more efficient – so your leaders can focus on other strategic elements of achieving organizational and team-specific goals.

The benefits of virtual team building include:

- Better personal relations.
- Improved team collaboration & communication.
- Stress relief from daily duties and more serious meetings.
- Increased job satisfaction & higher employee retention rate.
- Reinforcing company culture & values.
- Onboarding new members who feel more part of a real team.
- Higher productivity from remote workers and teams.
- Showing your remote team members leadership cares.

Let's work together to unite & re-energize your remote teams!

TeamSynch Challenge

D) 'TeamSynch Challenge'

This enjoyably interactive event is designed to provide your RW's with a great opportunity to show their talents, while stressing the importance of synchronicity in reaching team and organizational goals.

The format isn't overly complex – teams will need to brainstorm, agree on, practice and then present a short, dynamic TeamSync Performance.

Each team can choose 1 of 4 genre they're comfortable and confident to perform including: 'Lip-Synch & Air Guitar', 'Team Karaoke', 'Hand Dancing' or 'Bollywood Boogie'. Besides good team harmony, creative costumes and/or props will certainly help in judging.

Teams will be given their own private breakout room to plan and practice their performance, then wow us all with their positive energy!

Key Concepts/Benefits: team bonding; creativity; planning & execution; coordination; synergy; stress relief.

E) 'DIY Team Discoveries'

It's Showtime! And the entertainers are your dedicated DIY problem solvers, who'll need all their ingenuity and good presentation skills to win our Virtual Golden Dragon Award!

After a quick Icebreaker or Energizer, then getting into our DIY Teams, we'll introduce their main objective: using their own knowledge or a myriad of online sources, they'll need to plan and organize themselves to make engaging and lively demo presentations to the group.

We have 2 versions of this event: 'DIY Life Hack Show' and 'DIY Magic Show'. With the first they'll need to source interesting and useful life hacks; with the second they'll have to find and present simple but impressive magic tricks. The result is great learning and laughs for all!

Key Concepts/Benefits: collaboration; communication; planning; human and resource management; dynamic presentation skills.

F) 'Team Art from the Heart'

For literally thousands of years groups and teams of people have used artistic mediums to express their culture and bonding.

So it's no surprise that online artwork can be a fun and effective way to unite our remote teams while tapping into their creative powers.

We have several versions of this event, including 'Team Spreadsheet Art', 'Find Yourself' and 'The Big Picture' – contact us for more info to see which style fits best for your team and objectives.

To summarize though all three include Icebreakers & Energizers before they go off to private rooms, where the teams can use various apps to collaborate and then present their artistic creations for judging – we look forward to seeing your digital Da Vinci's in action!

Key Concepts/Benefits: encourages creativity; collaboration; planning; personal relations; communication; .

G) 'Virtual Escape Rooms'

Escape Rooms are a very effective way to build and evaluate our teams. So it's no surprise that the huge growth in remote working has more groups taking advantage of these benefits in an online setting.

These virtual escape rooms incorporate a variety of puzzles, riddles, brain twisters and audio/visual clues to progress through the challenge.

Your teams will face a series of increasingly harder mini-Escape Rooms – the team which escapes from the most rooms will be champs. To do this they'll need a plethora of crucial teams skills. Given different personalities the dynamics can also be very interesting.

Combined with our Icebreaker/Energizers and facilitated de-briefing session at program's end, these are complete and value-packed events!

Key Concepts/Benefits: analytical and problem solving skills, mutual respect, communication, collaboration, resource management.

H) 'Virtual Video Makers'

Lights, mobile cameras, Action! After a couple of fun warm-up activities the teams will be briefed that they need to create a video presentation related to your organization's products, services or goals (or can be totally off-the-wall and non-company related as well).

In their private breakout rooms the teams will need to brainstorm ideas, delegate roles, and scavenge for props, while working together to make short, but powerful 2-3 min. videos.

Their productions will be judged based on content, originality, team spirit and entertainment levels. While we aren't expecting Hollywood level productions we have seen many inspiring and laughter-filled results – you are the stars!

Key Concepts/Benefits: creativity; communication; planning & organization; thinking outside of the box; presentation skills.

1) 'The Betta Bowl'

This program is a take-off of the popular Shark Tank TV show, with our version aiming to take an approach based on mutual respect and good communication – a very useful culture to foster in any business setting, where the open exchange of ideas can lead to great achievements.

Similar to the show, your teams of online entrepreneurs will need to come up with a mini-business idea promoting a new product or service. These can be company related or totally off-the-wall as you wish. The teams will need to organize themselves into various sub-units to effectively make their dynamic sales pitch during the finale segment.

Teams will be assigned breakout rooms to generate ideas and plan their presentation, using virtual white boards, slide shows, etc. Game On!

Key Concepts/Benefits: innovation; collaboration; brainstorming; giving and receiving constructive criticism; presentation skills.

J) 'Desktop Yoga'

It's no secret that working in the corporate world can be very rewarding but also has its stresses. Effectively managing this stress is key to good problem solving, maintaining health and achieving long-term success.

The mental & physical benefits of yoga have been well known for ages, and we aim to bring these positives to your employees by teaching basic de-stressing skills, as well as the ability to clear our minds of distractions while concentrating on the challenges at hand.

To achieve this we'll take the group through a fun Icebreaker activity, then a series of stimulating yoga movements, facial massages and useful meditation techniques – that most anyone can easily do sitting at their work station. Great before, during or after your meetings!

Key Concepts/Benefits: relaxation & stress relief; mindfulness; mental & physical well-being; focusing with pressure & distractions.
